Expertly curated supplements with proven efficacy provided by people who care.

Transfer Point continuously delivers some of the world's best supplements at an affordable price; their company manufactures a Biologically Active, Highly Purified form of Beta Glucan. Transfer Point takes pride in potency; they are the only producer of a minimum 85% pure Beta Glucan.

Transfer Point's gold standard stems from the creator of their dietary supplement, A.J. Lanigan. A.J. is responsible for the aptitude of their active ingredient, Glucan 300®. This essential compound outperforms top competitors 16 to 1 in modulating Immune Response. Transfer Point's highly effective material is scientifically proven to maintain and support a Healthy Immune System.

Transfer Point Beta Glucan

“The Smarter Immune Response”

Transfer Point's Glucan 300® modulates the immune system to provide support and balance. It is unlike other immune supplements that simply stimulate or change the immune response in an unnatural way. As the sole company offering a minimum 85% Beta Glucan Purity, it is evident that no other manufacturer rivals Transfer Point's Effectiveness. Free of toxic contaminants, each batch is thoroughly tested and selected based on biological activity; Over 50 years of research from prestigious universities (Harvard, Louisville, Tulane, Stanford, and more) documents the benefits of Beta Glucan. Transfer Point's Beta Glucan is scientifically proven to be the Most Effective Immune System Supplement on the Market.

Where Do You Want Your Immune System To Be?

For Maximum Immune Response, a dosage of One 500mg Capsule per 50 pounds of bodyweight is ideal. For example, a 130 pound person would need ~1300mg of Beta Glucan. Please note, since 1300mg is more than 2 Capsules (1000mg), we advise taking 3 500mg Capsules (1500mg) Daily on an Empty Stomach for the Best Immune System Possible. Importantly, all 3 Capsules should be taken together every morning. Wait at least 30 minutes after taking Beta Glucan before eating, drinking (not including water) or consuming other products.

Backed by Scientific Research

The field of glucan research is very active, with over 50 new scientific reports being published weekly. In fact, glucans are actually the most studied natural immunomodulator on Earth. On any given day, a dozen or more universities around the country are testing this material in their research labs. With recent findings showing Transfer Point being 16x more effective than its top competitors, you can rest assured knowing you are taking a product that is truly backed by scientific research.

Over 150,000 publications on Glucan have been documented at leading institutes including:

- Auburn University
- Brown University
- Cornell University
- Tulane University
- McGill University
- University of Louisville
- Harvard University
- University of Minnesota
- Defence Research Establishment, Canada
- University of Massachusetts
- US Armed Forces Radiobiology Research Institute
- Memorial Sloan Kettering Center

Manufactured for Purity

Transfer Point products are manufactured in ISO 9000 facilities and they strictly adhere to ISPE's Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP). Every batch is tested twice to ensure complete purity and potency is retained: once when it's first made, then again when it's ready for encapsulation. The final product is evaluated by independent third-party agencies, with each lot receiving a Certificate of Analysis. Only the top 15% of the material produced meets the stringent purification standards (minimum 85% purity) and becomes Transfer Point's Glucan 300®. The end result is our customers receiving the World's Purest and Most Biologically Active Glucan.

Safe and Effective

Saccharomyces Cerevisiae, Baker's Yeast, is the most extensively studied and most biologically active glucan source on the market. Baker's yeast, as a source, has been given the FDA's GRAS (Generally Recognized as Safe) rating, one of the highest safety ratings a substance can achieve. This highly coveted classification ensures there are no known side effects or adverse reactions.

Transfer Point's Beta Glucan is cited in the Journal of the American Nutraceutical Association as

“The Most Effective Dietary Supplement for a Healthy Immune System”

BETA GLUCAN FAQOur Customers' Top Questions Answered by the Top Beta Glucan Experts*A.J. Lanigan and Dr. Vaclav Vetvicka*What makes Transfer Point Beta Glucan the Best?

The effectiveness of Transfer Point Beta Glucan has been tested in countless Peer-Reviewed Medical Articles alongside dozens of the best-known Immune Supplements and Modulators on the market. Its clear superiority has been published endlessly in a myriad of Top Medical Journals.

Is Beta Glucan Backed by Scientific Research?

Beta Glucan has been The Most Studied Natural ImmunoModulator on Earth for more than 50 years. PubMed.gov, a service of the US National Library of Medicine®, features 150,000 scientific publications on Glucan and almost 50,000 scholarly articles involving Glucan and Humans. Transfer Point Beta Glucan has been the centerpiece of over 20 Medical Journals including the American Journal of Immunology and the Journal of Medicinal Food. Read More on pg. 9

What Ingredients make up Beta Glucan? What is in Beta Glucan?

Since the term Beta Glucan is still growing in popularity, there is a common misconception that it is a composition of other ingredients or a mixture of other supplements. The truth, however, is quite the opposite. Beta Glucan is Beta Glucan: a natural fiber molecule derived from our source, baker's yeast. Having only One Single Active Ingredient adds to the safety and purity of our product.

Is Beta Glucan Safe? Does it have Side Effects?

There have been Multiple Human Trials that look at critical health parameters including organs, tissues, chemicals, brain function, etc. No harmful effects have ever been caused at any dosage level. Therefore, the FDA determined our Beta Glucan to be GRAS (Generally Recognized as Safe) under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

Will Beta Glucan Overstimulate the Immune System?

Unnatural immune stimulation occurs with substances like Echinacea, Astragalus and Colostrum. In contrast, Beta Glucan naturally activates, or "prepares," our immune cells while not over activating them; which is key to the safety of our product. This process of putting the immune system on "high alert" is referred to as immune modulation because it does not overstimulate.

Will Beta Glucan Cause a Yeast Reaction? Can I take it if I am Allergic to Yeast?

Transfer Point's extraction process yields a highly purified compound free from all of the unwanted impurities that may cause or trigger a yeast reaction; e.g., the Proteins, Fats, and Lipids of the Yeast Cell Wall. This purification process leaves behind a complex carbohydrate void of any "live" yeast. Therefore, our end product cannot cause a yeast reaction and it can be taken safely by those with yeast allergies.

Does this contain Gluten?

"Beta Gluten" is a common mispronunciation / misspelling of Beta Glucan. Despite this frequent mistake, rest assured; our All-Natural material is Gluten-Free, Soy-Free, Dairy-Free, Wheat-Free and GMP (Good Manufacturing Practices) Certified.

Is Transfer Point Beta Glucan Genetically Modified or Non-GMO?

Transfer Point is committed to Highly Purified, unadulterated products. They exceed this expectation by delivering a GMO-Free Beta Glucan encased in a Vegan, Non-GMO Plant Capsule.

How Much Beta Glucan Should I Take?

For Maximum Immune Response, a dosage of One 500mg Capsule per 50 pounds of bodyweight is ideal. For example, a 130 pound person would need ~1300mg of Beta Glucan. Please note, since 1300mg is more than 2 Capsules (1000mg), we advise taking 3 500mg Capsules (1500mg) Daily on an Empty Stomach for the Best Immune System Possible. Importantly, all 3 Capsules should be taken together every morning. Wait at least 30 minutes after taking Beta Glucan before eating, drinking (not including water) or consuming other products. Read More on pg. 4

How Much Beta Glucan Should I Start With?

Using the aforementioned example, someone who needs 3 Capsules Each Day for their Maximum Immune Response would begin dosing at the quantity of 3. Subsequently, this same person is able to stop taking the Beta Glucan at any time with no risk of side effects. Supplementing in this way is only possible because Beta Glucan is an Immune System Modulator.

How / When do I take Beta Glucan?

To ensure the Beta Glucan is readily absorbed, you will want to take it on an Empty Stomach, First Thing in the Morning. If you do eat in the morning, then you need to wait no less than 30 minutes after taking the Beta Glucan before you eat.

What if I already Take a Product in the Morning and/or on an Empty Stomach?

A good rule of thumb for taking multiple products on an empty stomach is to administer each product (pharmaceutical / nutraceutical) at least 30 minutes apart; rather than taking a myriad of tablets and capsules together. As an example, if I take Beta Glucan at 7:30am, I would not take my next "empty-stomach-product" until 8:00am. If I wanted to eat, I would then wait until 8:30am or later. Of course, this is a minimum recommendation and further separation, in some cases, is ideal. If you are curious as to which product to take first, I would choose that which is most important to you or your physician. Personally, I hold the Immune System in high regard and therefore, I would take the Beta Glucan first.

How long should I take Beta Glucan?

For optimum Immune Support, you will want to take Beta Glucan every day.

It is important to know that this product does not over stimulate and therefore, continuous use is 100% Safe. If you do stop taking the product, please note that your Immune System will return to an ordinary level in approximately two weeks. That being said, you should take the product for as long as you want a Better Immune Response. In today's world, we need all the help we can get.

"My experience with Better Way Health has always been very positive to the point that you feel like you are being taken care of by a family member. The videos of each supplement are very helpful. The site is very easy to navigate and you can get your supplements sent to you automatically. I also watch for the specials they have periodically so I can stock up. I even like the personal touch in the packaging and can tell who packaged up the supplements for me. This all helps to know that this company cares about you and your health. Thanks Better Way Health!"
